Miss Elizabeth A. Herman, perhaps better recognized attired in a scrub gown and cap, is a symbol of security, warmth and understanding to her students. Her quiet strength has given us support in times of difficulty, and her encouragement has helped us to continue on when our determination faltered. She is remembered with special fondness and admiration by the graduating seniors of 1969 for her time, patience and dedication as class advisor. She is truly an example of one of the finest nurses and instructors we have ever known.

With great respect and admiration we dedicate the 1969 PLEDGE to Miss Elizabeth A. Herman.

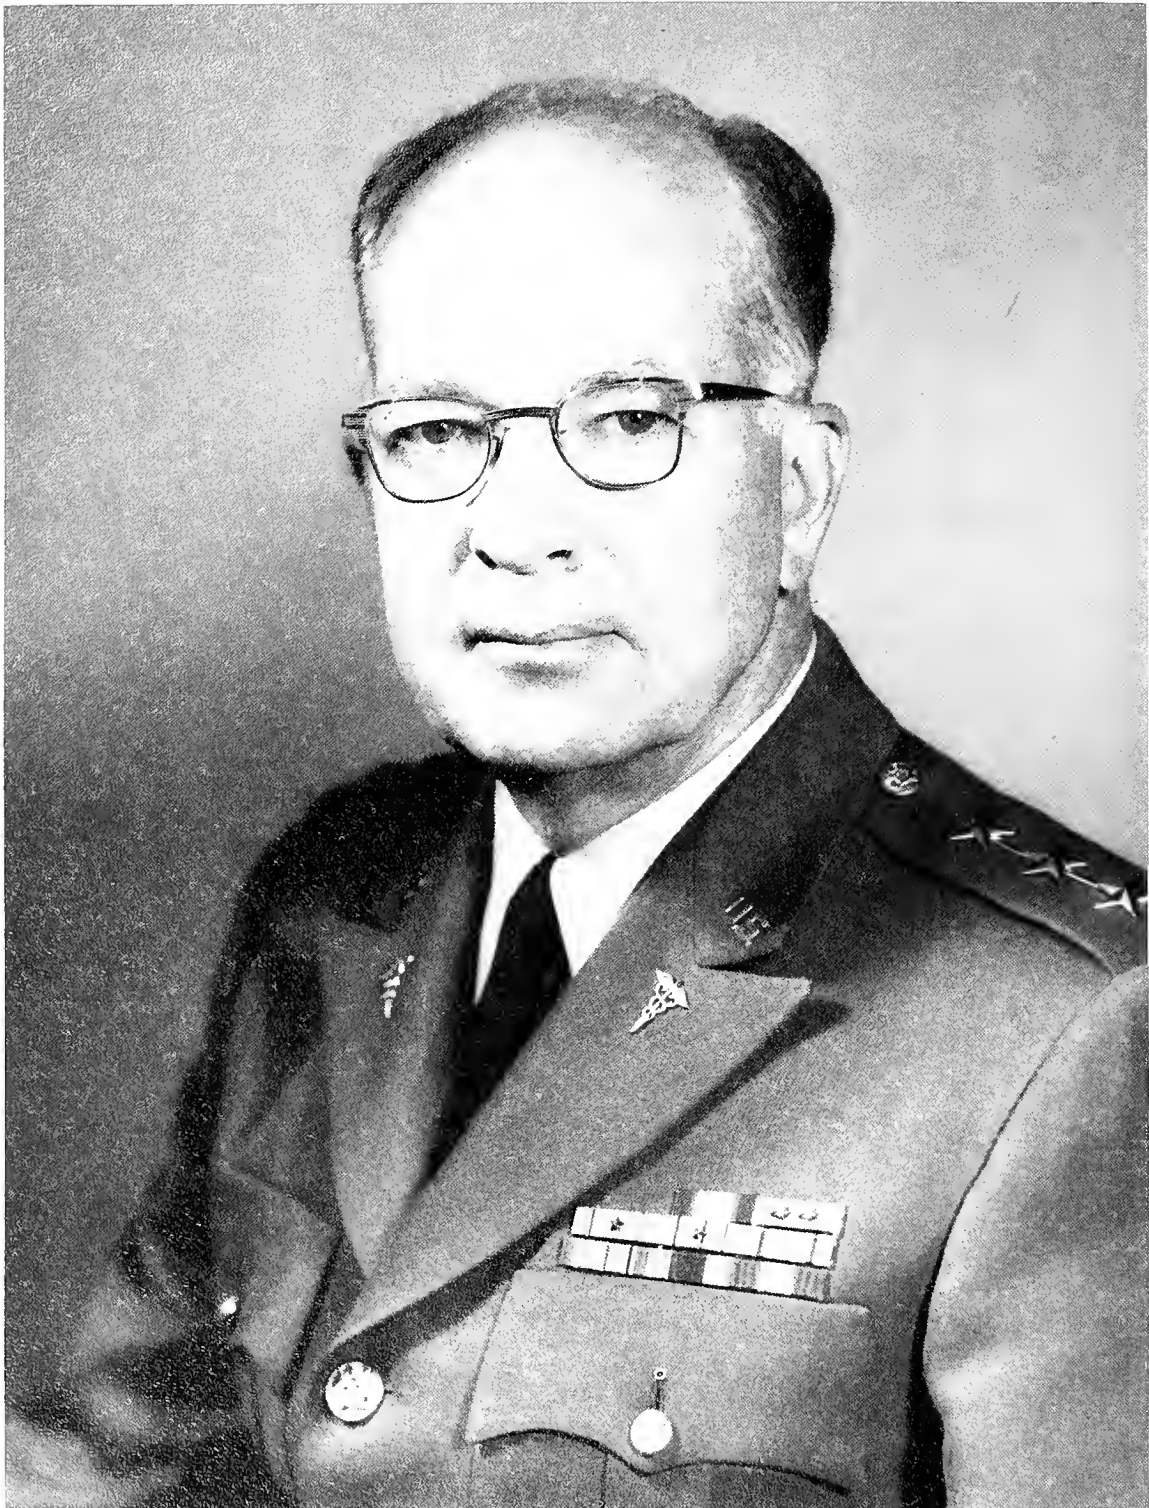

The person we chose to share our complaints had to listen; the one to share our joys had to be happy; the one to share our troubles—understanding.

But the person to whom we entrusted our dreams had to be alive with the enthusiasm of tomorrow, not bound by the warnings of the past.

To this one, each of our visions had to be seen as new, no matter how worn they might be. To her each of us had to be special, unique.

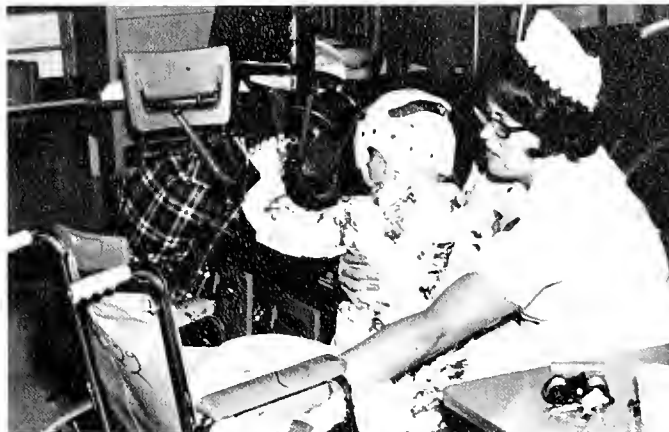

We searched for such a person; we found Colonel Ewen.

To her we dedicate the 1969 PLEDGE—a record of the dreams she has shared.

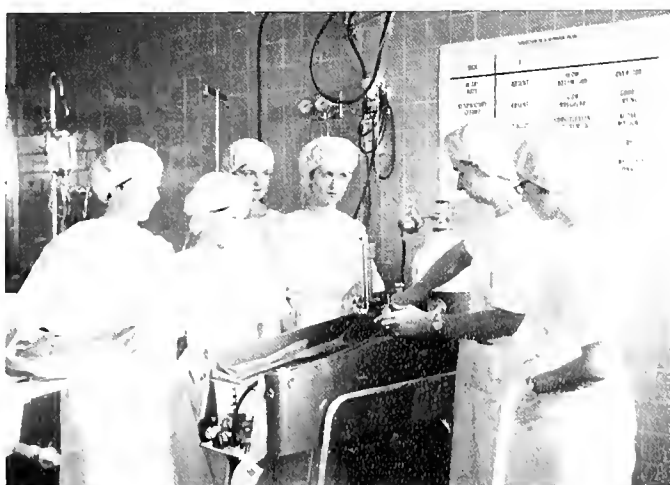

Three or four years ago, each one of us received an official telegram announcing our acceptance into the Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing program. At the end of this message appeared the name of the Surgeon General of the Army, Lieutenant General Leonard D. Heaton. At that time, we were quite unaware of the effect this man was to have on each of our lives: for it was through his efforts, because of his great interest in the nursing profession, that the WRAIN program came into being.

Because we owe so much to General Heaton, we would like to begin to express our gratitude to him by giving him special recognition in the 1969 PLEDGE.

I am pleased to inform you that you have been selected to participate in the Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing Program. It is requested that you notify the Surgeon General, ATTN: MEDPT-MP, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C., 20315, within five days of your intention to accept or decline participation in this program and enlistment in the U.S. Army Reserve.

*"I'll give my hand
to those who cannot see the sunrise or the falling rain;
I'll sing my song
to cheer the weary along;
I'll share my faith
with every troubled heart.
I'll give my hand,
I'll sing my song,
I'll share my faith
Because I know that the time is now
to fulfill each vow,
For I may never pass this way again."*

WALTER REED SENIOR CLASS A TIME TO REMEMBER

- Do we still believe in "To do a common thing uncommonly well"—our class motto?*
- Remember when we could sing our class song, "Walter Reed", without tears?*
- Long ago we wondered, "What will this day be like?" as we prepared our first skit—"The Sound of WRAIN-DROPS".*
- Remember back to the faculty's protest, and their answer to us, "The Faculty Follies".*
 - Remember being all thumbs when we tried to flute our caps?*
 - the beginning of Miss Runamuck in "Life—Army Style"—our welcome to the new juniors?*
 - getting up for revelry at 0600 to meet the new juniors?*
 - the joy of having a 7 week vacation—without pay!!*
 - then, are we really seniors?*
 - the faculty trying to persuade us how mature we have grown!*
 - the loss of Sgt. Mendez!*
 - soon WRAIN gained a new director—and we had to say good-bye to Col. Ewen until July!*
 - those long tiring days of washing faculty cars so our class wouldn't go bankrupt!*
 - those teas where we developed social graces while talking with 3 star generals!*
 - weekly round trips to Fort Belvoir—especially in winter snow!*
 - the exciting adventures of riding an Army bus!?*
 - the new name tags sprouting all over the place!*
 - the birth of our own newspaper!*
 - all the many joys and happiness, sadness and hard times that we shared with each other!*
 - Suddenly panic as we fill out dream sheets and where in this wide world do we go?*
 - 200 day, 150 day, 100.....days parties!!*
 - joy, but sadness as we plan for our big weekend of convocation and graduation!*
 - What, me, finally becoming an officer in the Army?*
 - And so much more to come!!*

*"I shall pass this way but once
Any good I can do, any kindness I can show
Let me do it now,

CHOIR

The Choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles Haslup, is composed of girls from all disciplines on the Baltimore Campus. It serves as a fun, weekly diversion for the members and also performs throughout the year. Included in its performances this year were Christmas caroling at North Arundel Convalescent Home and the student-faculty tea, and singing at Montebello State Hospital and the Medical School Convocation. Officers are Linda Fahrney, President, and Eileen Nagel, Vice President.

Coordinator: Nancy Adams, Red Cross Representative to Student Nurse Subcommittee.

Advisor: Maj. Mary Lou Spine, Red Cross Representative to Graduate Nurse Subcommittee.

Under the direction of Nancy Adams, the Red Cross Volunteers have held two series of First Aid courses, one Orientation to Red Cross course, a Mothers'-aide Instructors course, and have taught unwed mothers. They have also helped in transporting retarded children to College Park for classes. On March 12, Jane Delano Day was held in Delano Hall, sponsored by the Red Cross.

BALTIMORE SENIORS WILL . . .

Jill Ashworth:
My psych. knowledge and lots of luck, Norma.

Claudia Albrecht:
All my tears to anyone who is dumb enough to shed any. All my med. cards to anyone who can decipher them. All the luck in the world to the new juniors. . .they're going to need it.

Georgia Bell:
The black soot of Baltimore to anyone who can take it.

Nicki Bonner:
To Tina DeSolvo (the mother confessor of my junior year). I bequeath my eternal devotion to school.

Patricia Bosak:
My hip spica to Mrs. Cook for visual aid. My ability to write a 55 pg. care study in one night to any junior who plans ahead.

Barbara Broyles:
My super formula for beauty . . .baby powder.

Betty Busch:
My collection of rare bottles

Sandy Cawley:
I am willing my 13 straight hairs to Jewel Cooper.

Donna Chemsak:
I, Donna Chemsak, being of sound mind and body do hereby will my worn, tattered, dirty, trampled, yellowed and dingy uniforms.

Bonnie Collins:
I leave to any junior who's willing, the senior curriculum section for next year, and the other half of the pink suite with crocheted rugs and ski posters.

Rhona Davis:
My core classes for Psych. and Public Health three times a day.

Bev Dearing:
Some roach repellent and an air-conditioner to the dorm.

Melinda Dixon:
Un-limited curfews—and we got them!

Pierrette Duggins:
I will Beverly Long all my coke bottles and pepsi cans.

Becky Evans:
All of my frustrations created by striving to become a graduate of the U. of Md. School of Nursing.

Linda Fahrney:
I leave my summer visits to the sun roof when the evenings were cool and the city was pretty.

Nancy Foltyn:
My assortment of broken clocks to a junior who likes to sleep late.

Teri Friedman:
I will my clanking radiator to whomever wishes to be awakened at 3 A.M.

Millie Glaw:
I hereby do give a half inch of wall space to decorate as you like.

Connie Gooch:
To Wendy Wood, my advice on handling of the male specie.

Judy Harris:
My Med.-Surg. faces to some deserving junior.

Kathy Hatfield:
To a deserving junior: "Old King Soul", 180 parking tickets, and my toad.

Jan Haynes:
I, Janice Haynes, being of unsound mind, leave as my last will and testament all my well developed, well nourished varicose veins to anyone willing to re-edema them.

Donna Herndon:
My witch hat to all the kids in Peds. My premature white hair to Ben Termini.

Dena Horton:
I hereby do give my biostat. midterm to the dogs, and my wedding plans to any junior brave enough to get married in her senior year.

Carolyn Howard:
To whomever gets my room I leave my radiator; my long and very narrow closet; and my knocking wall. I hope they're friends with 710.

Joyce Ireland:
To Mr. Tarka I leave the apathetic members of the junior class.

Phyllis Isaacs:
I leave the right side of the desk in 702.

Peggy Durbin:
All her flannel P.J.'s to Susie.

Mary Klingelhofer:
Madys to next years 4th floor. Saunders Med.-Surg. text to Kathy A. Kelly. My "problem 135 extra long name pin" to the U. of Md. School of Nursing Museum.

Kathy Michalski:
I will the good luck involved in snatching a man to all those interested.

Carole Miller:
I will our bug-colony-infested room to Marsha Sasser and Betsy Montgomery.

Marianne Miller:
My status as "The Blonde" to any deserving junior

Jen Moore:
My chest to any needy junior

Diana Mosco:
One pet roach in the right hand closet to the new occupants of our room.

Regina Moses:
To Wendy Wood, my thermometer. To whomsoever gets my room the elevator, radiator, and closet key.

Eileen Newburger:
A new senior curriculum.

Eileen Nagel:
My vasoline and band-aides to anyone in need of them.

Linda Palmateer:
My hypertrophied vocal cords to some unknown junior hiding in the corner of silence.

Connie Perry:
I will a "B" in Med.-Surg.

Gayle Prince:
My nightly letters to next years' Army Fianceses; Our 5:30 A.M. mornings to next year seniors; And our pitted aluminum pot to a girl who didn't buy Thermo-Core.

Carol Raab:
My nutrition lectures to all undernourished nursing students; My "pep" talks to the depressed; And my own anxiety and "happiness" to all forthcoming junior class brides.

Paula Reuter:
I leave to some deserving junior my window-view of asphalt and my door knob that falls off when you touch it.

Judy Rhoad:
SMS's confusion to Mr. McDonald; One beautiful day to all us June 14th'ers.

Jackie Rosenstien:
My blood-tinged razor to a hairy junior

Bette Russ:
I, being of sound mind and weak back, do hereby will my ruptured disc to any student, lifting discectomy patients on the 9th floor.

"Sadey"
I will my path to the Inn to all deserving juniors.

Vicki Scott:
One radiator in 702 that won't turn off, to the next senior class.

Pam Shipley:
I will my scatterbrains and chronic worrying to Jo.

Judi Sloop:
My chauffeur's license; "your pleasant disposition"; first place on my "favorite people list" jointly to Mrs. Madison and Miss Shubkagel; path to the parking garage; eye glasses to a very near-sighted junior; my empty mailbox; and a sincere "Best Wishes and Good Luck" to everyone.

Gail Smith:
One narrow and shallow closet in room 703 to any new senior with a scanty wardrobe.

Sunny Stockslager:
I will my "hole in the wall", room 223, to some hapless, unsuspecting person.

Paula Taylor:
I leave to anyone who wants them, the four most unused student uniforms to any senior, plus a well-worn path to the Psych. Institute.

Susie Thomas:
My room to Jr. Med.-Surg. instructors as a visual aid for disaster nursing.

Janet Thompson:
My naptimes in class to all suffering juniors.

Kathi Wahaus:
I will the S.G.A.

Joan Weintraub:
A portable guillotine for all students taking Sr. Med.-Surg.

Mary Ann Yukon:
One half of a suite—completely pink with messed up rugs.

Jonni Zimmerman:
My love of the dorm to Ann Howard along with my coffee pot and a can of Bud to help maintain her sanity.

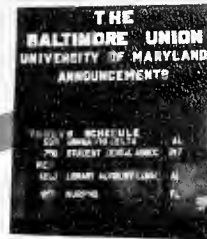

Judi Sloop and Gayle Prince will to the SPHN's at Druid, (1) bottle of tranquilizers for hysterical mothers... and you, (2) cans of dog repellent for K-9 Corps of N.W. Balto., (3) one "BOA" pack for those home deliveries, (4) one bottle of Tylenol for migrains, (5) bottle of Alka-Seltzer and Excedrin for car sickness, (6) and a 1948 map of Balto. City.

EPILOQUE

No great thing is created suddenly. Each of us, through our own endeavors, have invested our minds and hearts into the world of nursing. We channel our energies into pathways that bridge the unforgettable past to the unfolding future.

The Pledge '69 has reflected the crossroads of our lives. Originating from different backgrounds we have joined together to travel the roads of education to enlighten our minds and accomplish our goals. Through these pages, The Pledge '69 has captured the spice of our frolic, the fulfillment of our labors, and the truth of our dreams.

Jacqueline Rosensteen
Gail Prince

It would be impossible to adequately express our thanks to everyone who has helped in creating The Pledge '69. Our advisors, Ada Linsey and Wendy Johnston, have been a source of support and guidance. Mr. Robert Morgan and Mr. Jim Ellis, our Hunter representatives, have been of invaluable assistance in giving professional advice and helping us over many of our "crises". We thank Hillcrest Studios for their portable studio and patience through countless sittings.

I would like to thank each member of the Pledge staff and my co-editors, Pat Holshue and Sunny Stockslager. Special appreciation goes also to our business managers, Judy Rhoad and Johnnie Sue Jordan; and our tireless artist, Jackie Rosensteen.
